Special Features: Mary Baldwin University, founded in 1842 as Augusta Female Seminary, is a diverse institution where the proven advantages of a women’s college meet the opportunities of a small, coed university. Programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels empower students to become the architects of their lives while developing their unique strengths and gaining the skills most valued by employers. The residential, undergraduate Mary Baldwin College for Women serves about 664 students, including members of the only all-female corps of cadets in the country (Virginia Women’s Institute for Leadership) and a unique residential program for girls as young as 13 (Program for the Exceptionally Gifted). Baldwin Online and Adult Programs serves both men and women on campus and at regional centers throughout Virginia. A top-ranked master’s-level university, MBU also offers co-educational graduate programs in education, health sciences, and Shakespeare studies.

Campus Setting: MBU is located on 58.5 beautiful acres overlooking Staunton, Virginia's vibrant downtown, which means shopping, dining, art, and many ways to enhance classroom learning are just a few steps away.

Academic Quality

The Mary Baldwin College for Women encourages young women to see possibility through an education that is:

- Personalized, featuring first-year Leadership Gateways designed to foster student interests
- Experiential, with classroom discussions, lab research, conference presentations, community service projects, and more than 50 student-led campus organizations
- Relevant, by connecting undergraduate experiences to career skills
